Heraldry News* - The Journal of Australian Heraldry Society Inc. (formerly Heraldry Australia Inc.)

Nos. 1 (September 1990) - No. 75 (July 2017)

Compiled by Stephen Michael Szabo and Richard d'Apice

EDITORS:

Graeme Jebb	Nos. 1 (September 1990) – 8 (December 1994)
John Billing	Nos. 10 (June 1995) – 24 (September 2000)
Stephen Michael Szabo	Nos. 25 (March 2001) – 75 (July 2017)

The format of Nos. 1 – 8 is A4.

No. 1 (September 1990)

4 pages

The Australian Heraldry Society Inc. began life as the Heraldry Group of the Genealogical Society of Victoria and the journal Heraldry News began life as the journal of that Group. The Group soon became an unincorporated society separate from the Genealogical Society of Australia.

The first issue was unnumbered.

Statement of intent and a call for heraldry questions and articles.

Heraldic Anomalies: Use of their arms by the City of Heidelberg, Victoria, and by the City of Doncaster and Templestowe, Victoria.

No. 2 (July 1991)

4 pages

This second issue was also unnumbered.

Editorial - The editorial called on readers to exercise the same care and professionalism in heraldic research as in genealogical research.

Current publications related to Heraldry.

An Heraldic Question: Arms granted to anyone with the surname of Patching.

Heraldic Anomalies: Armorial Misuse by the Cities of Prahran and Heidelberg, Victoria.

Heraldic Accolades: The City of Melbourne and Diamond Valley Shire for good use of their arms.

The previously unincorporated society was incorporated as Heraldry Australia Inc. (A0026164D) on 6 October 1992.

No. 3 (October 1992)

13 pages

The first numbered issue, and the first published as the journal of Heraldry Australia Inc.

Editorial:

A call to treat heraldry as a living art and science, not just an historical subject to be studied.

Australian Civic Heraldry: City of Melbourne

What Will Happen Then? A discussion on the implications of Northern Territory statehood for the Commonwealth Arms.

News from Abroad: The White Lion Society

List of Recent Heraldry-related Books

Sponsorship:

Production of this and the next five issues was sponsored by the Colonial Fruit Company.
